Education

Ph.D., Political Science, Claremont Graduate School, 2006. Major areas of study: Political Philosophy, American Politics, and American Constitutional Law.
M.A., Political Science, University of Connecticut, May 1995.
B.A., Political Science, University of Connecticut, Magna Cum Laude, August 1993.
B.A., History, University of Connecticut, Cum Laude, May 1993.

Professional Employment Experience

Senior Research Fellow
October 1, 2016-present, Strata, Logan, UT.

I presently oversee Strata's series of Round Table colloquia, and write for both the popular and academic presses. I also produce both a recorded weekly video and a live monthly video event which examine the events of the day.

Director of Academic Programs
October 1, 2014-October 1, 2016, Strata, Logan, UT.

In this position I oversaw the activities of the Academic Programs department at Strata, which included supervising a staff of nine. My department was responsible for running a number of academic conferences each year, in addition to developing curriculum for all of Strata's academic endeavors. I was responsible for strategic planning for the department, and served as a member of Strata's Executive Team.

Founder & CEO
September 1, 2012-Present, FreedomTrust, Denver, CO.

I helped to found FreedomTrust, a 501(c)3 educational institute, in order to offer educational programs to traditional students and adult learners in a variety of settings and formats. We presently offer 20 high school programs and summer seminars for teachers each year.

Director of Academic Programs
September 1, 2011-August 31, 2012, Institute for Humane Studies, Arlington, VA.

In this role, I was responsible for directing the Academic Department's programming with a budget of $3.7m. I also oversaw the award and distribution of the Humane Studies Fellowship, which disbursed $822,000 of scholarship funding to graduate students around the world. In this position I supervised five PhDs, a JD, and a support staff of six. Additionally, I was responsible for maintaining relationships with external vendors and contractors. I was responsible for strategic planning for the department, and was a member of the IHS Management Team. In conjunction with the development team, I also oversaw grant administration, with a special emphasis placed on compliance and record keeping.

Academic Dean of Students
August 2010-September 2011, American University of Iraq-Sulaimani, Sulaimani, Iraq.
In addition to teaching one class per semester, I oversaw every aspect of student life at the American University in the Kurdish region of Iraq. I was responsible for directing a staff of fourteen and a number of volunteers, and for interacting with various department heads to ensure proper budgeting, legal and academic compliance, and health, safety, and welfare for students, staff, and faculty. In my capacity as Dean I was also responsible for the oversight of the institution's academic integrity. I was directly responsible for all academic and non-academic discipline, and for overseeing all extra-curricular events and athletic programs at the University. Additionally, I assisted the Provost with faculty oversight, hiring, and university security, along with various Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) arrangements with partner and potential partner institutions. Finally, I managed the University's two MBA programs, one internal and one in conjunction with Hochschule Furtwangen University, on an interim basis, and served as MBA thesis director.

Assistant Professor
August 2005-August 2010, St. Vincent College, Latrobe, PA.

Visiting Instructor
September 2004-August 2005, SUNY-Oswego, Oswego, NY.

Visiting Instructor
September 2001-May 2004, LeMoyne College, Syracuse, New York.

Visiting Instructor
September 1999-May 2001, Utah State University, Logan, Utah.

Visiting Instructor
September 1998-August 1999, University of La Verne, La Verne, California.
